CRQSH BNTZ

CRQSH Banana Runtz is an indica-dominant hybrid resulting from the cross of Bahama Mama and Red RNTZ. It is characterized by a terpene profile dominated by tropical, sweet, and fruity notes, with ripe banana clearly in the foreground, complemented by subtle nuances of other exotic fruits and a soft candy-like sweetness. The overall aromatic impression is smooth, well-rounded, and inviting, with a bright, fruit-forward character.

The flowers are compact in structure and display a deep forest-green coloration, contrasted by vibrant orange pistils. The fresh, expressive fragrance profile clearly reflects the distinctive genetic background of the strain and its strong terpene characteristics.

Patient-reported experiences have associated this variety with a gently uplifting initial impression, followed by a calm and soothing overall effect. It is often described in the context of relaxation, mental unwinding, and physical ease. Cultivars with this sweet, tropical aromatic profile are frequently referenced for afternoon or evening use, particularly in routines aimed at promoting rest and comfort.
